- The present case is the first in England, I believe, in which a man has been condemned to death for his conduct in the course of a criminal prosecution. The accused was a 30-year-old man, L. J., tried before Mr. Justice Balfour at the Old Bailey on April 10, 1920. The sentence which he was given was death by hanging. The facts on the merits of which it is proposed to hear—
Sir Edward George General Fields.
The law under which the trial had to be held, according to his Honor, Justice Edward George General Fields, was Section 2 of the Criminal Appeal Act, 1908, as follows:
"The whole of which the power is to be exercised and determined by the House of Commons; provided, that it may appear to every member of the House of Commons that it is expedient to exercise such power, and that it is expedient so to do, he may, by resolution of the House, cause such power to be exercised in any manner as he may determine by resolution of the House."
That is to say, that which is proposed to happen—dissenting from the opinion of the majority of the House of Commons, the House of Commons itself has the right to overrule the decision of the House of Commons, provided all other members are of the same opinion as the 30-year-old man, L. J., tried before Mr. Justice Balfour at the Old Bailey on April 10, 1920, for the following preceding crime—Murderous bairns.
The following is the report of the trial:

DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT.

Appointment of Claims Committee at Calcutta, Bombay and Madras under War Risks (Goods) Insurance Ordinance, 1940.

Fort St. George, December 9, 1942.

The following resolution of the Government of India is republished:—

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE.

WAR RISKS INSURANCE.

Nro. D.W.R.I. (1942)—With a view to ensuring prompt adjudication of claims under the War Risks (Goods) Insurance Ordinance, 1940, and the War Risks (Particular) Insurance Ordinance, 1942, the Government of India have decided to appoint Claims Committees at Calcutta, Bombay and Madras. The Committees will include representatives of commercial interests and will consist of not less than three members at Madras, the Claims Committee at Bombay will have power to appoint a sub-committee at Karachi and the Claims Committee at Calcutta to appoint sub-committees at Lahore or Delhi and Lucknow or elsewhere.

2. The principal functions of these Committees will be:

(i) to examine the reports of the Loss Assessors in respect of claims and to recommend to Government the amount of claim admissible; and

(ii) to maintain an adequate number of Loss Assessors and to appoint Loss Assessors in places where none exist.

At present contemplated, the procedure is regard to the simplest and most rapid of claims will be that immediately a claim being made by an insured person through the General Agent or Government Agent will notify the appropriate Claims Committee. The Claims Committee or the Government Agent will then appoint a Loss Assessor unless in any particular case Government decides to appoint a special Loss Assessor. The Loss Assessor or Assessors will examine the claim and submit a report to the Government Agent, that is to say, the Insurance Company. The Government Agent will, after such further verification as he may think fit, forward the report to the Claims Committee which will consider the report and submit its recommendations to Government for review through the Development Secretariat concerned.

3. The Claims Committee will be constituted as follows:—

Calcutta.

- (i) C. W. Barfield, Esq.
- (ii) A. H. Bell, Esq.
- (iii) W. E. Price, Esq.
- (iv) H. N. Scott, Esq.
- (v) G. Starkie, Esq.
- (vi) R. D. Legge, Esq.
- (vii) M. A. Goodall, Esq.
- (viii) R. D. McRae, Esq.
- (ix) The Special Officer, War Risks Insurance, Calcutta.

Bombay.

- (i) A. S. Chadwick, Esq.
- (ii) P. K. Shrivastava, Esq.
- (iii) A. V. Roberts, Esq.
- (iv) T. G. Dowd, Esq.
- (v) N. Lakshmi, Esq.
- (vi) J. C. Seaville, Esq.
- (vii) L. A. Stiles, Esq.
- (viii) Fred J. Hulme-Bridgeman, Esq.
- (ix) The Special Officer, War Risks Insurance, Bombay.

Madras.

- (i) G. N. Reed, Esq.
- (ii) G. S. Krishnam, Esq.
- (iii) G. D. Courtney, Esq.
- (iv) Mrs. Radha T. S. Kaduppanna Maligaiar.
- (v) H. S. Tovey, Esq.
- (vi) The Special Officer, War Risks Insurance, Madras.

The Government of India may, in their discretion, appoint such persons as they think fit to be of his members of any Committee for the purpose of assisting the Committees in the investigation of any particular claim or class of claims.

The dates shown in brackets are the dates allowed under section 7(2A) of the Act.

2012. J. Bhandarkar. Improvements in or relating to the recovering and leverage of battle dress. Prints are made on a perforated cloth with different forms to draw the fibers to fall length and transverse liquor is passed by differential pressure.

2013. H. V. Vandenberg, Robert Jones. Resinous compound and wood base coated against red of the chamber, which has been divided by discharge into two compartments.

2014. Dr. G. Weissman. Improvements in and relating to processes for the production of acetone and butyl alcohol by fermentation of molasses. (March 21, 1942.) Fermentation of a molasses meal by bacteria.

2015. S. N. Burt. Improvements in or relating to multiple building construction, structures of houses or other works, or parts thereof, of tiles, stones, or other materials, and the manner of joining the same so as to provide said parts having at the mutual joints.

2016. Dunlop Rubber Co., Ltd. Improvements in or relating to apparatus for the electrical treatment of inflated tires. Withdrawal of tread with a removable belt and multiple of diaphragms weighted at bottom edge.

2017. Dunlop Rubber Co., Ltd. Improvements in or relating to apparatus for the electrical treatment of inflated tires. Withdrawal of tread with a removable belt and multiple of diaphragms weighted at front edge and suspended from top edge.

2018. B. Nagamuthuram. Improved apparatus. Tires, new with rear loops for front, retaining air supply and fitted with a heel for holding bars.

2019. J. E. Kennedy. Means for heat treating and fusing material with a solder. Casting, electrodes, furnace, crucible, and other parts, steam passing hot water from coil through central in the casting.

2020. D. H. Bowley. Improvements in or relating to hydrostatic control of apparatus by means of a hydrostatic jack, counterpoise, and pipework with valves.

2021. D. H. Bowley. Improvements in or relating to hydrostatic apparatus. In the apparatus an inverted portion of the base, the ends are parallel to each other and there exists between points of attachment to the top and the inverted portion a gap equal to the difference in length between the ends.

2022. D. H. Bowley. Improvements in or relating to hydrostatic apparatus. In the apparatus two parallel half-shafts, each having a fixed base plate mounted centrally by two walls forming an angular space.

2023. D. H. Bowley. Improvements in or relating to which drive hydraulic pump. Constructed especially comprising a shaft, across which clutch is connected, power-operated disengaging means and control valve.

2024. K. K. Datta Gupta. A gasket for connecting between, between or some similar volatile and non-volatile liquid like gas, and therefore utilizing the same in existing or internal combustion engines. A flexible, porous and elastic volatile liquid-like gasket or frame of porous producer gas.

2025. H. S. Ghose. The manufacture of paraffin and wax ester by the action of acidic boron salts as volatile aldehydes. A mixture of acidic boron salts is heated with a solution of a solid alcohol.

2026. Society of Chemical Industry in India. Process for the manufacture of hardenable reaction products, which is organic solvents, of anisotropic-methacrylate-modified products. According charge of anisotropic-methacrylate with carbonyl end of the fatty acid series.

2027. Butler Industries. Improvements in or relating to concentration of coke. Continuous feed, to a reverberatory heating inclined trough and heated outlet at lower end.

2028. M. L. R. J. Cooper. A radiographic unit for correcting radiographic distortion and a method for obtaining radiographically true information, especially of the heart, relative to the chest. (September 20, 1941.) Providing a joint of X-rays through a magnetic alternating current or thermal e. current and causing harmonics.

Calcutta, the 17th November 1942.

2029. International General Electric Co., Inc. Compositions containing polymeric methyl methacrylate compounds, including polymers methyl methacrylate or polyacrylic methyl methacrylate esters.

2030. The Malabar Radio Valve Co., Ltd. Improvement in load-spread tuning circuits for radio receivers. (July 9, 1940.) In which load-spreading is effected by a variable inductor which shunting a part of the tuning circuit which affects the tuning thereof by mutual-inductance.

2031. Thomson-Rca Company. Improvements in or relating to audio amplifiers and method and apparatus for the manufacture thereof. (February 18, 1943.) Intensity of sound by determined loss of the working transistors until.

2032. W. B. Weston. Improvements in or relating to means and apparatus for transmitting plants, pictures or the like. Transferring stencil, aperture mask, card reading machine and picture applying means.

2033. E. T. Girard. Improvements in or relating to combined refrigerating apparatus. Thermoelectric cooling means for a cold receiving feed and insulated in mentioned apparatus of seal circulation.

2034. Venner, Miles, and E. C. Brown. Improvements in or relating to protein collectors. Protein solution containing an oil and a thixotropic disintegrant.

2035. The Indian Smelting & Refining Co., Ltd. Improvements in and relating to the manufacture of metal or metal-alloy rods and other articles, whether solid or hollow, by stationary casting. Circularisation of ingot under pressure through a casting providing a single casting cylinder of relatively spherical article completely surrounding the mould.

2036. May & Tolson, Ltd. Process for the production of silicate derivatives. (December 9, 1943.) Addition to No. 20201. Inserting a wire with an alloy wire coils and fibres of the first composition from its alloy wire compound that formed.

2037. W. F. DePeyster. Improvements in molecular alloy compositions and articles made therefrom. Containing 60-80 per cent of metal and 20-40 per cent of plastic.

2038. J. A. M. Watson. Reinforced tankers. Each having walls reinforced and advanced in the well spaced by webs passing through bolts in the tanks.

28689. D. E. B. Penrudd, Ltd. Improvements in or relating to methods of reducing resistance in apparatus. (July 19, 1951.) Two separate electrodes arranged side by side, one end of one chamber being connected to the electrode nearest and corresponding end of other in front, and the opposite ends of both electrodes are interconnected.

28690. Dr. A. Ross, Dr. Sir G. S. Rutherford & others, Dr. Karmelich and G. C. Smith. Preparation of organic material from the natty juice of the plant Succowiania heterotropica. Jars are prepared and the suspended mass is extracted by means of an aqueous solvent.

Patents, the 16th November 1952.

28691. Shell Development Co. Improvements relating to the formation of mobile sheet and/or flexible protective membranes by means of emulsions. (August 7, 1950.) A mixture of several oil, or a suspended oil containing mineral oil and a partial water or water of a polyhydro alcohol with a fatty acid containing more than eight carbon atoms in its molecule.

28692. Colloids, Ltd. Improvements in or relating to moulding compositions containing artificial resin. (October 16, 1951.) Impregnating fibres 35 per cent and 75 per cent of thermosetting resin and impregnating 15 per cent and 25 per cent of glass fiber.

28693. D. McDonald. Improved feed arrangement for mixing machine for tea or the like. Arranging bags to the bottom of hopper and mounting said pointed to stated bracket attached to the tray and to the mixing frame of mixing machine.

28694. M.-Col. W. Bridges. Wire reinforcements for metal cylinders and like bodies and methods of applying same. Encapsulating body with resin, saturating same thereby by heating and rotating the wire.

28695. D. H. Bradley. Improvements in chemical compounds for the treatment of textile fabrics by the process of padding thereon water-soluble, Cationic Dyes. I. A water-soluble, Cationic Dye, I, wherein it is an alkyl-modified alkyl sulphate, organic acids and salts, or sulphite or sulphate and amine, is preferred for treating fabric water repellent by treating PCDF with EDCBG and further treating the intercalated compound with a briny acidic.

28696. J. D. Ortiz and A. R. Martí. Improvements in electrical insulators. Two ceramic platings followed round a pin and sandy colorized by means air as one of them by means.

28697. Telephonix Manufacturing Co., Ltd., and L. H. Padias. Improvements in or relating to telephone communication systems. Scoring telephone communication equipment which consists of primary switching under control of operator and supplementary switching under control of subscriber.

28698. Macalpine Products Holdings, Ltd., and G. A. R. King. Improvements in or relating to lenses. (October 17, 1951.) Mode of reducing material and cost and also having spreading drift map.

28699. A. E. Beresford and O. D'Alton de Vito. A differential, low impedance classification process of radioactive solid wastes. Separate process used for wastes below but with bulk of solid as liquid purge waste.

28700. Tencor Machinery Corporation, Ltd. and K. Riddle. Improvements in or relating to the face honing of textile machinery components and the internal components. Product for adapting the honing pads in slanting with a layer of chromium carbide. 1950 model.

28701. The Dunlop Rubber Co. (Harrow), Ltd. Improvements in seating cables and parts therefor. (August 20, 1951.) Insulating material built up of two or more impregnated paper strips having edges which are prepared by heating and paper cladding same.

28702. International General Electric Co. Inc. Improvements in or relating to electric switches. Dual connection between the fixed point and the metallic contacts in presence.

28703. D. Nepler & Son, Ltd. Improvements in or relating to the manufacture of zinc and other electrochemical materials. Recovery and portion of third by sifting.

28704. Lt.-Col. W. Bridges. Wire reinforcements for bodies and means for and methods of applying same. Limited dated to September 16, 1951. Underlying frames of wire by reducing their number and a member supported for rising and falling.

The average area under paddy in the Madras Province during the five years ending 1940-41 has ranged 42.9 per cent of the total area under paddy in Madras.

2. The area sown with paddy up to 30th November 1942 is estimated at 8,182,000 acres. When compared with the area of 8,351,000 acres estimated for the corresponding period of the previous year, it reveals an increase of 4.7 per cent.

3. The area sown is the same as that of last year in Chittor and the Nizam. An increase in area is estimated in the other districts of the Province except in Nellore, Chingleput, North Arcot, Cuddalore and Tanjavur. The percentage increase in Nellore and Tanjavur is 10.0 per cent, Kanchipuram 7.60 per cent, South Arcot 4.10 per cent and Tirunelveli 1.60 per cent.

4. The best crop of paddy is being harvested in parts of Sriperumbudur, the yield per acre is expected to be normal in Salem, Madurai, Ranipet, Tiruvannamalai and South Arcot and below the normal in the other districts of the Province due probably to insufficient rains and inadequate water-supply for irrigation during the growing period of the crop. The crop was affected to some extent by insect attacks in parts of the districts of East Godavari, West Godavari and Tenkasi. The second frost for the province as a whole ended on 15th December and the average air temperature in the corresponding period of the previous year.

5. The wholesale rates of paddy, according to the seasonal record of B.I.R.B. as 31st October 1942, sold from conventional markets on 30th December 1942 was Rs. 4-0-0 in Coimbatore, Rs. 4-2-0 in Guntur and Krishna, Rs. 6-2-0 in Villupuram, Rs. 6-2-0 in Tiruchirappalli, Rs. 8-2-0 in Cuddalore and Ramanathapuram, Rs. 8-0-0 in Chengalpattu, Rs. 4-12-0 in Krishnagiri and Erode, Rs. 4-12-0 in Conjeedu, Nagapattinam and Nagapattinam and Rs. 4-0-0 in Arcotapatna. When compared with the rates published in the last report, i.e., those which pertained to 31st November 1942, the prices reveal a rate of 25 per cent in Coimbatore, 20 per cent in Chittor, 17 per cent in Villupuram, 16 per cent in Tiruchirappalli, 10 per cent in Erode and Tiruvannamalai, 8 per cent in Rajahmundry, 7 per cent in Madurai and Tirunelveli, 6 per cent in Chittoor and Madras, 5 per cent in Villupuram and Villur, and 4 per cent in Cuddalore and Nagapattinam, the prices reflecting stability in Asiapuram and Madras.

6. Figures, by districts, are given in the statement below—
